

AromataGroup:
the only limit is your imagination!

Emans Derivati Aromatici was established back in 1947. Today, it is a benchmark in the market for flavours and aromatic extract for alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages. The use of raw materials, such as plants and herbs, a strong link with traditional production methods, the use of advanced extraction technologies and the development of tailor-made solutions are the main reasons behind AromataGroup' success in Europe and other international markets.

AromataGroup specialises in the development and production of flavours and aromatic extracts for the beverage industry, like wine-based drinks, alcoholic beverages, such as liqueurs and Italian bitters and non-alcoholic beverages, such as soft drinks, energy drinks and non-alcoholic aperitifs. AromataGroup produces also distillates and infusions.

Today Emans Derivati Aromatici is a business unit of AromataGroup, which operates autonomously, in compliance with the Group's strategy, providing a complete range of products for specific market segments.
